5th Leg Progress

With the recent talk about free fonts on the web, I've picked up from where I left 5th Leg. I've generated and cleaned up a lighter variant, that's still a headline font, but maybe a tad lighter variant could be used for a text like this one.

There is still an issue with the accented characters making the metrics hosed. I need to read up on opentype and the possibilities to avoid creating this manually. A program will probably do a better job than a non-designer designer ;)
